AUSTRALIAN TAX FORUM

A prestigious quarterly journal with a mandate to provide discussion on topical issues in tax policy, law and reform, with relevance to people who want to influence the development of tax policy.

Australian Tax Forum is an essential reference source for understanding and contributing to the development of taxation systems worldwide, and is read by tax policy-makers and academics and held by libraries.

Australian Tax Forum is an "A" ranked journal under the Australian Research Council's Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) initiative.

Highly respected for its thought leadership by policy-makers and academics alike, Australian Tax Forum has for many years been a point of first reference for those seeking in-depth commentary on law, administration and economics.

Key features and benefits:

- leading-edge topical tax policy issues;
- addresses future development of tax policy;
- blind-refereed articles; and
- published four times a year.
