Welcome

On behalf of the organising committee, I extend you a warm welcome to the Agribusiness Intensive to be held on 18th and 19th April 2024. The event can be attended in-person at Stamford Plaza, Brisbane or online. Both formats will allow you to participate effectively as a delegate and engage with the presenters.

This is the eighth year of the very successful two-day event. The program this year provides targeted technical sessions that address the key tax issues arising from ongoing primary production business transactions and will provide you with the ideal opportunity to up to date on current tax and related legal issues in the area.

The 2024 program will deep dive into topical issues, including:

- A review of the issues facing foreign investors acquiring agriculture assets
- A panel discussion on the emerging trends market update on carbon farming
- Succession planning, including an overview of the practical considerations and how to implement a complete succession and business transition plan
- Understanding the application of GST to farming enterprises; and
- The many issues that can arise where a group structure includes family trust.

Plus much more!

I look forward to welcoming you to this exceptional event either face to face or online!

Melissa Simpson
Chair, Intensive Organising Committee

Technical program

Day 2 Friday, 19 April 2024

Time AEST	Session
8:30 – 9:30am	Session 7: Small Business CGT Concessions Speaker: Linda Tapiolas, CTA, Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers The Small Business CGT Concessions remain an area of focus for the ATO. With rural land values continuing to be high in most parts of the country, farming businesses looking to access these concessions need to be mindful of the requirements, and the pitfalls. This session will deep-dive into the basic and additional requirements for each of the Small Business CGT Concessions in a primary production context, and will highlight planning points including documentation.
9:30 – 10:30am	Session 8: Foreign investment into the Australian agricultural sector Speaker: Duncan Bedford, ATI, McCullough Robertson, Gracie Roberts, McCullough Robertson Foreign investment is an increasingly attractive alternative for Australian farmers seeking additional capital, know-how or access to markets to grow their business, or for those seeking an exit strategy. This session will cover a number of the tax and commercial issues that may arise in those circumstances. We will also cover a surprisingly common situation where farmers and their advisors find their existing ownership structure to be ‘accidentally foreign’, and what can be done to manage that issue. Specific topics that will be addressed include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• FIRB – fees, application process and conditions, and their impact on the target entity• Transfer duty considerations• Land tax implications; and• Practical guidance for implementation (tips and tricks).
10:30 – 11:00am	Morning tea

Technical program

Time AEST	Session
11:00am – 12:00pm	Session 9: Research and Development (R&D) Speaker: Ellen Lau, Australian Taxation Office, Brett Zimmermann, Australian Taxation Office The last 18 months have been significant to the development of the law underpinning the R&D provisions. Recent Court and Tribunal decisions (several of which in the agribusiness sector) have provided taxpayers, the Commissioner and DISR with a more precise understanding of how the R&D provisions are to be interpreted. This session will, in an agribusiness context, examine the following topics from the perspective of Brett Zimmermann, Assistant Commissioner, Tax Counsel Network with technical responsibility for the ATO's significant R&D litigation and Taxpayer Alerts, and Troy Whelan the Queensland Regional Director of Private Wealth. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The decision in GQHC and Commissioner of Taxation – circumstances when the Commissioner may put R&D eligibility in dispute and feedstock in primary production• Discussion of other recent tax R&D cases – TDS Biz and Sunlite• Taxpayer Alert TA 2023/4 and R&D expenditure incurred to an associate• Taxpayer Alert TA 2023/5 R & D and expenditure on R&D activities conducted overseas for a foreign entity• R&D Transparency measure; and• Governance and risks with R&D claims.
12:00 – 1:00pm	Session 10: Structuring & restructuring the family farm Speakers: Frederick Mahar, CTA, FM Mahar & Associates, Gary Thomas, CTA, Gary Thomas Proprietary Limited As the need for scaling up and increasing the profitability of agribusinesses rises, so too does the need for restructuring the farming enterprise (or getting it right to begin with). Restructuring any business involves a number of steps and a farming operation is no different. There are a number of tax and duty considerations to take into account as well as confirming the availability of any rollovers, concessions & relief available for these agribusinesses. Topics covered will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Recognising tax consequences of transferring business assets and concessions (including Small Business Restructure Rollovers, CGT Concessions, trading stock and depreciation rollovers/elections, etc) available across the various primary production assets when a change of ownership occurs (either through internal restructure, succession to the next generation or sale)• Tidying up balance sheets, Division 7A, removing personal use assets from business structures, etc• Identifying potential transfer duty concessions available for restructuring agribusinesses; and• Dealing with the tax issues arising on the change of ownership as a result of a major life event such as ill health, death or relationship breakdown.
1:00 – 2:00pm	Lunch

Technical program

Time AEST	Session
2:00 – 3:00pm	Session 11: GST in farming enterprises Speaker: Ajay Ravi, CTA, McInnes Wilson Lawyers This session will delve into the intricacies of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) specifically tailored for farming enterprises, encompassing both sizable agricultural operations and smaller ventures. Throughout the session, our exploration will cover key elements, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understanding the intricacies of GST as it applies to the industry, including the what, when, and how of its operation and application• GST operational, financial and structuring opportunities (i.e. GST grouping, etc)• Discussing approaches and best practices to achieve GST compliance and maximise GST savings• Delving into GST concessions including farmland and the margin scheme tailored to the unique requirements of farming enterprises; and• Examining the principles and practices of tax governance for GST, and recent ATO activity.
3:00 – 3:30pm	Afternoon tea
3:30 – 4:30pm	Session 12: Agribusiness receipts – Are they assessable and if so, when? Speaker: Tom Delany, CTA, Tax Partner The range of amounts received by primary producers can vary significantly from year to year while characterising amounts received will generally depend on the nature of the receipts and the contractual arrangement. This session will provide guidance on the relevant taxation issues for: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Primary Production Income – Recognising, classifying, smoothing, deferring, averaging and distributing a whole range of primary production income streams including disaster relief payments and carbon credit payments; and• Non-Primary Production Income – The taxation of gravel, timber and water sales, wind turbine and solar farm receipts, mining compensation amounts, easements, carbon credit payments, conservation covenant amounts and other abnormal receipts.
