Welcome

Yarra Valley Tax Retreat 2026 – Terrific tax technical and noteworthy networking!

Each year, tax advisors descend upon the gorgeous Yarra Valley for a premium retreat that offers up a delightful mix of deep yet practical technical sessions and wonderful networking opportunities. Our program for 2026 is our best yet!

The Yarra Valley Tax Retreat is worth locking into your diary to make the most of all that the retreat has to offer. Either stay and play after the retreat, or head back to the office to implement the learnings and strategies you pick up during the retreat.

Our committee has pulled together technical experts that will delve into (then pull us out of) the deep, dark abyss of various current tax issues ... and leave us feeling enlightened and equipped to address these issues in our practices. Our presenters will use case studies to highlight and solve complex tax problems, setting us up for success when we work through these issues with our clients.

Some sessions address ongoing complexities but shed new light on them or highlight current areas of focus of the ATO (and, where relevant, the State Revenue Offices). Other sessions consider issues that are sure to come across your desk soon if you've not previously dealt with them, preparing you so that you can expect the unexpected.

We have a great mix of sessions that will particularly appeal to practitioners that work with small to medium enterprises and groups, and high net worth individuals and families, including thorny Div 7A case studies, practical trust law issues that continue to rear their ugly heads, strategic considerations relating to residences, and SMSF do's, don'ts, and definitely nots!

This year, we return to the familiar warmth of the RACV Country Club and Resort, which provides the perfect backdrop in the Yarra Valley region. After strong tax technical sessions with practical case studies, we will switch modes to unwind as we network and enjoy the delectable retreat dinner in the ambiance of the beautiful Yarra Valley – though some may choose to continue to discuss and debate tax issues over a glass (or more) of some of the region's most delicious wine!

Our 2026 Yarra Valley Tax Retreat Organising Committee looks forward to seeing you in July!

Technical program

Day 1 Thursday, 23 July 2026

Time *AEST	Session
9:00 – 9:45am	Registration and Morning tea
9:45 – 10:00am	Welcome and Opening Address Speaker: Rachel O'Donnell, CTA, Chair, Retreat Organising Committee
10:00 – 11:00am	Session 1: Property Pain Points – GST and State Taxes in a State of Flux! Speakers: Geoff Mann, CTA, Deloitte, Aathees Paransothy, Deloitte This session will consider key GST and State tax issues that arise in common structures, as well as the risks of unintentionally triggering transfer duty or landholder duty (with reference to recent cases). The session will also address some of the most common GST issues that arise in the context of property developments and subdivisions, highlighting practical traps and recent developments.
11:00am – 12:00pm	Session 2: Property Development Agreements – Tax Risks and Cases Speakers: Simon Tisher, CTA, Victorian Bar, Adrian Zuccarini, FTI, Australian Taxation Office This session will unpack the ATO's focus on Property Development Agreements (PDAs), drawing on recent Taxpayer Alerts and the broader compliance posture. We'll examine the implications of recent decisions, including in Morton v FCT , highlighting how courts are shaping the tax characterisation of development arrangements. The discussion will extend to indirect tax considerations, such as duty issues (especially economic entitlement duty) and the GST treatment, with insights from relevant PCGs and other guidance. This session will be focused on seeking solutions and will be supported by a practical case study.
12:00 – 1:00pm	Lunch
1:00 – 2:00pm	Session 3: CGT vs PPR – Understanding Main Residence Exemptions Across Tax and State Regimes Speaker: Russell Krupp, CTA, Moray & Agnew Lawyers It is said that home is where the heart is. It can also be said that home is where some of the most complex provisions of the tax act lie! The main residence exemption is far-reaching in its effect and so tax practitioners interact with it often. Whilst the 'basic case' CGT main residence exemption is reasonably straight forward it doesn't take long before things get complicated. This session will consider some of those more complex issues such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Issues with applying the exemption to dwellings forming part of a deceased estate• Applying the exemption where a dwelling is inherited by a non-resident• Tips for structuring the ownership of a main residence and/or changing a pre-existing structure: and• The interaction between the CGT main residence exemption and state based Principal Place of Residence land tax exemptions (which vary between jurisdictions) and more ... Designed for experienced practitioners, this session focuses on practical risk areas, and strategic considerations when advising on involved main residence matters.

Time *AEST	Session
2:00–3:00pm	Session 4: Why a Three-Letter Word Ending in “X” May be the Most Important Issue in Relationship Breakdowns Speaker: Evan Beissel, FTI, Forzis Mazars For many years, TAX has been treated almost like a taboo subject in the context of relationship breakdowns – something to be dealt with later, or assumed to be automatically resolved through family law processes. In reality, tax considerations are now one of the most critical, complex, and potentially costly elements of separation. Relationship breakdowns are often profoundly taxing in every sense: emotionally, financially, and administratively. Lengthy disputes, heightened stress, and the pressure to “just get things done” can cloud judgement and lead to decisions that carry significant unintended tax consequences. While concessional tax provisions exist to soften the impact of separation – such as CGT rollover relief – these concessions are not universal, not automatic, and often not as protective as clients assume. In many cases, the concessions may not apply at all, leaving one or both parties exposed to substantial tax liabilities. This session explores the growing importance of tax awareness in family law matters, particularly as separating couples increasingly seek to sell or restructure assets early to lock in tax outcomes or access liquidity. We’ll examine how key tax rules intersect with family law settlements, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Main residence rules and the complications that arise when one party moves out, rents the property, or delays sale• Foreign residency issues, which can dramatically alter CGT outcomes and remove access to the main residence exemption entirely• The role of Binding Financial Agreements (BFAs) in managing tax exposure and ensuring tax-effective asset division; and• Common tax considerations for transfers of assets held by trusts and companies as part of a family law settlement We’ll also unpack the interplay between tax, duty, and land tax when assets are transferred under family law arrangements – an area filled with traps for advisers, especially when parties attempt to minimise legal costs or rely on informal agreements. A recurring theme is that the desire to reduce costs, avoid conflict, or finalise matters quickly can lead to decisions that ultimately become the most expensive choices of all. When tax is overlooked, assumed, or treated as an afterthought, the consequences can be long-lasting and financially severe. This session will equip advisers with the insight needed to identify risks early, guide clients through emotionally charged decisions, and ensure that tax is not the silent factor that turns an already difficult situation into a financially devastating one.
3:00–3:30pm	Afternoon tea
3:30–4:30pm	Session 5: Estates: Tips, Traps, and Hot Issues Speakers: Chanmony Om, BNR Partners, Milana Starikov, BNR Partners This session will explore key issues in deceased estates and estate taxation, focusing on practical considerations for everyday practitioners. We will examine residency rules for both estates and beneficiaries, including how residency status impacts tax outcomes and administration. With the global mobility of individuals, this is not a ‘set and forget’ matter. The discussion will also highlight common estate planning strategies such as life interests, rights to occupy, superannuation, and testamentary trusts and the associated tax considerations. To tie these concepts together, the session will contain a practical case study illustrating common tax issues that arise in estate administration.

Panellists will discuss some mini-case studies to focus on thorny Div 7A issues, the ATO's current approach, common compliance traps, and practical strategies for managing risk while maintaining commercial flexibility. Practical issues include UPE's and minors, setting off loans, forgiveness and statute barred debts, s109C and the lease of company property and whether Div 7A loans are preferable to franked dividends, corporate and natural person beneficiaries and estate planning.

Day 2 Friday, 24 July 2026

Time *AEST	Session
9:00–10:00am	Session 7: Trust Matters – Navigating FTEs, Restructures and Distributions Speaker: Andrew de Wijn SC, Victorian Bar, Jennifer Vogan, Victorian Bar This session will cover key trust issues, including the ATO’s technical reasons for denying franking credit eligibility and the implications for FTEs, restructures, and distributions. We’ll also examine testamentary trusts, particularly bloodline and child maintenance trust provisions, and finish with practical guidance on identifying and rectifying invalid distributions.
10:00–11:00am	Session 8: Discretionary Trust Distributions: Practical Guidance for the Year Ahead Speaker: Michael Flynn KC, CTA-Life, Owen Dixon Chambers West In this session, we explore the practical complexities of family trust elections, interposed entity elections, and the application of family trust distribution tax, with a focus on how these rules are being tested in current ATO reviews. We’ll examine common risk areas, recent ATO audit themes, and the strategies advisers are using to safeguard clients – ranging from tightening distribution documentation to reviewing historical patterns and ensuring elections are correctly made and maintained. Technical program

Time *AEST	Session
11:30am-12:30pm	Session 9: Modernising Trusts – Amendment Powers, Lost Deeds and Emerging Tax Issues Speaker: Dr Philip Bender, ATI, Victorian Bar This session will cover the recurring issues around amending trust deeds, winding up trusts and dealing with lost deeds, highlighting why these “old” problems continue to resurface. We’ll consider recent case law shaping the parameters of amendment powers from trust law, capital gains tax and transfer duty perspectives, and examine how deed changes interact with other tax provisions. Practical examples will illustrate common risks and how to keep variations and restructures valid and effective. Finally, we’ll touch on some of the practical challenges that arise when trust deeds are lost or incomplete, when the beneficiary class is either too narrow or too wide and some of the flow on effects.
12:30-1:30pm	Session 10: SMSF Investment – The Do’s, Don’ts, and Definitely Nots! Speaker: Daniel Butler, CTA, DBA Lawyers This session provides a focused overview of the key investment and related tax rules outlining what SMSF trustees may and may not invest in under the SIS Act, SIS Regulations and under the ITAA 1936 and 1997. Participants will be guided through the core compliance rules that underpin all investment decision-making, including the sole purpose test, arm’s-length requirements, the investment strategy obligations, and restrictions on acquiring assets from related parties. We will also examine key ATO guidance that shape practical compliance expectations. We also address common risk zones including SMSF investments involving real property, dealings with related entities, and the proper structuring and maintenance of LRBAs. Using examples, we run through practical tips, traps and strategies to minimise risk. By the end of the session, attendees will have a clear framework for identifying permissible investments and identifying red flags before they escalate into regulatory breaches.
